ABOUT THE COLLECTIVE

Formed in 2015, the Radical Open Access Collective is a community of scholar-led, not-for-profit presses, journals and other open access projects. Now consisting of more than 50 members, we promote a progressive vision for open publishing in the humanities and social sciences. What we have in common is an understanding of open access as being characterised by a spirit of ongoing creative experimentation. We also share a willingness to subject some of our most established scholarly communication practices to creative critique, together with the institutions that sustain them (the university, the library, the publishing house and so on). The collective thus offers a radical ‘alternative’ to the conservative versions of open access that are currently being put forward by commercially-oriented presses, funders and policy makers.

At OCSDNet, we propose that Open and Collaborative Science...

Principle 1: Enables a knowledge commons where every individual has the means to decide how their knowledge is governed and managed to address their needs

Principle 2: It recognizes cognitive justice, the need for diverse understandings of knowledge making to co-exist in scientific production

Principle 3: It practices situated openness by addressing the ways in which context, power and inequality condition scientific research

Principle 4: It advocates for every individual's right to research and enables different forms of participation at all stages of the research process.

Principle 5: It fosters equitable collaboration between scientists and social actors and cultivates co-creation and social innovation in society

Principle 6: It incentivizes inclusive infrastructures that empower people of all abilities to make, and use accessible open-source technologies.

And finally, open and collaborative science:

Principle 7: strives to use knowledge as a pathway to sustainable development, equipping every individual to improve the well-being of our society and planet

Pirate Care, a syllabus

We live in a world where captains get arrested for saving people's lives on the sea; where a person downloading scientific articles faces 35 years in jail; where people risk charges for bringing contraceptives to those who otherwise couldn't get them. Folks are getting in trouble for giving food to the poor, medicine to the sick, water to the thirsty, shelter to the homeless. And yet our heroines care and disobey. They are pirates.

Pirate Care is a research process - primarily based in the transnational European space - that maps the increasingly present forms of activism at the intersection of

a) To edit the current page one should use the button/link edit_this. It brings you straight into the editing Markdown file "responsible" for that web page.

b) To add a new topic one should use the button/link add_new_topic. In the field Name your file... type the new topic's name (without spaces) ending with .md. Make sure that the first line of the Markdown file has only three dashes --- followed in the second line with title: "A Very Good Page Title" (mind the quotes). The third line start with has_sessions: ["first_session_name.md", "second_session_name.md"] (mind the brackets and quotes). The sessions listed in that line will appear in a sidebar menu for that topic. In this case the forth line will be again three dashes --- and an empty line just before the content of the page. None of those lines will appear at the web site. That's called header<sup>1</sup> and it carries the metadata for that Markdown file. Here is the example of one of the topic's header:

title: "Criminalization of Solidarity" has_sessions: ["first_session_name.md", "second_session_name.md"]

Die Initiant*innen brachen ihren "epistemischen Vertrag" (Sylvia Wynter): Sie lösten ihre akademische Identität vom Besitzanspruch und von der Gleichsetzung von Forschungsbewertung und Erfolg. Sie liessen die "politikneutrale" akademische Haltung hinter sich und entwickelten aktiv eine radikale Ethik und Politik zusammen mit denen, die ihre Bemühungen teilen.
